London, Aug. 17—(AP)—The United Nations radio at Algiers announced tonight that "Messina has fallen."

Ottawa, Aug. 17—(AP)—The Rome radio said today that a large Allied invasion fleet had been sighted off Catania on the east coast of Sicily. Invasion barges were declared laden with troops and tanks.

BY RELMAN MORIN

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Aug. 17—(AP)—The American Seventh Army surged into Messina today, writing a spectacular finish to the 38-day campaign in Sicily. (Ross Munro, Canadian press war correspondent with the British Eighth Army, in a dispatch from the front today said "the bomb-battered city of Messina has fallen.")

The German radio declared the last German and Italian soldiers had been evacuated to the mainland.

In the scarred streets of the sprawling hillside port of Messina invincible doughboys of the American Third Division smashed at lingering enemy resistance in hand-to-hand fighting after reaching the outskirts at 8 o'clock last night.

They were the first to reach the city, but eight miles to the south British commandos, after a landing from the sea in defiance of the enemy's guns on both sides of the strait, had cleared the way for the approach of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British Eighth Army.

American "Long Tom" artillery had already opened fire on the enemy in Italy across the two-mile wide strait.

Fearful of immediate Allied amphibious attacks against the exposed Italian toe, Axis forces were observed carrying out demolitions in the Calabria region across the narrow waters.

This first indication of a possible withdrawal up the Italian peninsula came as British naval batteries built a wall of gunfire around the port of Italy to within 100 miles of Naples.

Drive on Bryansk Moving at Fastest Pace of Any of Three Current Red Army Thrusts

MORE NAZI RESERVES

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY

Moscow, Aug. 17—(AP)—The drive on Bryansk, the hinge of the German front southwest of Moscow, is moving at the fastest pace of any of the three current Red army thrusts, the Russian army newspaper Red Star indicated today.

With Soviet troops meeting stiff resistance in the battle for Kharkov, other Russian divisions were moving steadily ahead toward Bryansk supported by the push further north from Spas Demensk. Around Kharkov, Red Star said, the Germans were hurling large concentrations of reserves backed up by units of from 40 to 50 tanks and air squadrons in an effort to improve their precarious position.

The Germans were meeting with little success in the counter thrust despite the use of picked troops. Red Star said, and the Soviet army was throwing the Nazis back and inflicting heavy losses. The Russian troops driving through the shattered German defenses west of Karachev have approached to within 15 miles of the important Nazi base at Bryansk, Moscow announced in a communique last night.

Fighting before Bryansk was through dense forest and swamp land along the Orei-Bryansk railway. The Russian bulletin praised

"Major Battles Lie Ahead of Us" Byrnes Warns in Address

Director of War Mobilization Calls For Greater Effort And Sacrifice on the Home Front to Capitalize On Initiative Gained

ASSURANCES GIVEN OF ULTIMATE VICTORY

Washington, Aug. 17—(AP)—The nation and the world had from one of President Roosevelt's closest confidants today a pronouncement that the initiative in the global war, now held by the Allies, "is of no value unless followed vigorously with great forces."

Broadly implying the imminence of further grand scale operations against Nazi-held Europe, James F. Byrnes stressed the success of aerial bombardment to date, but said the president had authorized him to say that "the major battles lie ahead of us, not behind us."

Some observers drew an inference from his talk that attack by air, rather than by sea and land forces against numerically superior odds, might continue to key-note offensive strategy, for the time being at least. There were indications the decision in this connection may be reached in the Roosevelt-Churchill parleys at Quebec.

The Byrnes address was broadcast over the NBC network last night.

Byrnes, director of the Office of War Mobilization and some times referred to as assistant president, called for greater effort and sacrifice on the home front in order to press home the initiative already gained. In return, he promised a "substantial reduction" in the cost of living necessities and gave assurance of ultimate victory.

Byrnes implied thesis that the war against the Nazis might well be carried on from the air for the present was underscored indirectly in a message to King George of Great Britain from President Roosevelt, who is about to resume his strategy talks with Prime Minister Churchill.

Salt his talk with references to the "devastating" and "magnificent" bombing operations of the American and British air forces.

Byrnes declared that in the land fighting in Africa and Sicily "we have met and defeated less than 7 per cent of the combat divisions which the enemy has in the European area."

"Only in the air," he said in measured tones, "will we have numerical superiority."

Of the home front, Byrnes said. It is hoped, without lessening the war effort, to increase some essential supplies for civilians.

Regimentation of civilian life in total war is as necessary as military discipline is on the battlefield.

Definite progress is being made toward achieving a substantial reduction in the cost of actual necessities—"not of fancied wants."

Wages as well as prices must be held down.

Political discussions should be adjourned until the 1944 presidential campaign.

HOUCK TAKES OVER HIS DUTIES ON COMMISSION

Harrisburg, Aug. 17—(AP)—Henry Houck assumed his duties as the fifth member of the Public Utility Commission after taking the oath of office yesterday in Governor Martin's office.

The former Schuylkill county judge, a Republican, was sworn in yesterday by Judge Robert E. Woodside of Dauphin county in the presence of the governor, the other four members of the commission and the PUC's new chief counsel, Harold A. Scragg of Scranton.

Dr. Francis E. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction, was unavailable immediately for comment. His term also expires August 20.

Asked if Dr. Haas would be retained, Martin replied: "No comment."

Capitol reports that other changes are contemplated in the education department, brought from Martin "I haven't made any study of personnel."

Eleven were killed when their four-engine bomber plunged to the ground in a remote region of western Wyoming near DuBois Saturday night. Five were killed and six injured when another four-engine plane crashed up in an attempt landing at the Pocatello base.

PRESIDENT IS BELIEVED TO BE IN QUEBEC

Canada's Governor General Arrives From Ottawa and Will Entertain At Dinner This Evening

ALLIED CHIEFS GATHER

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Quebec, Aug. 17—(AP)—The Earl of Athlone, Canada's governor general, and Princess Alice arrived here today from Ottawa for a one-day stay at the Citadel, and will entertain tonight at a dinner at which it was believed President Roosevelt would be a guest.

(The foregoing passed Canadian censorship.)

The Quebec war conference entered its second week today amid strong indications that the unique manner in which it has been handled has been designed deliberately to intensify Axis nervousness over the major military developments predicted by President Roosevelt.

Meanwhile, Dana Doten, representing the Office of War Information at the war councils here, described the Quebec conference as "one of the greatest gatherings of military experts ever held."

In addition to the highest ranking military officials of the United States and Great Britain, he said "the officers directly responsible for the practical planning of major Allied operations have been brought together."

It has been obvious all along, Doten said, that these planners have been here. Probably most of their names never will be released, so as to avoid any disclosures which might be useful to the enemy.

Arrangements have been completed to receive the American chief executive here shortly for his sixth formal war council with Prime Minister Churchill.

(Don Iddon, London Daily Mail correspondent, suggested in a dispatch from Quebec that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower may attend the meeting and added that he (Turn to Page Nine)

48-Hour Week In Coal Mines Is Authorized

Washington, Aug. 17—(AP)—With President Roosevelt's approval, Interior Secretary Ickes was free today to order a 48-hour work week for any or all of the nation's coal mines which he has been administering since their seizure by the government.

The action, War Mobilization speech last night, was taken "because of the threatened coal shortage."

Ickes has estimated that 25,000,000 tons of coal were lost in the mine work stoppage last spring which preceded government seizure of the diggings.

The miners stood to make an additional $9 a week—six extra hours at time-and-a-half.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, has offered a 48-hour week in the mines as one of his terms for settlement of the prolonged mine wage dispute, which has resulted in a series of production-crippling work stoppages in both the bituminous and anthracite fields.

A spokesman for the United Mine Workers said there would be no comment from that organization on Byrnes' statement.

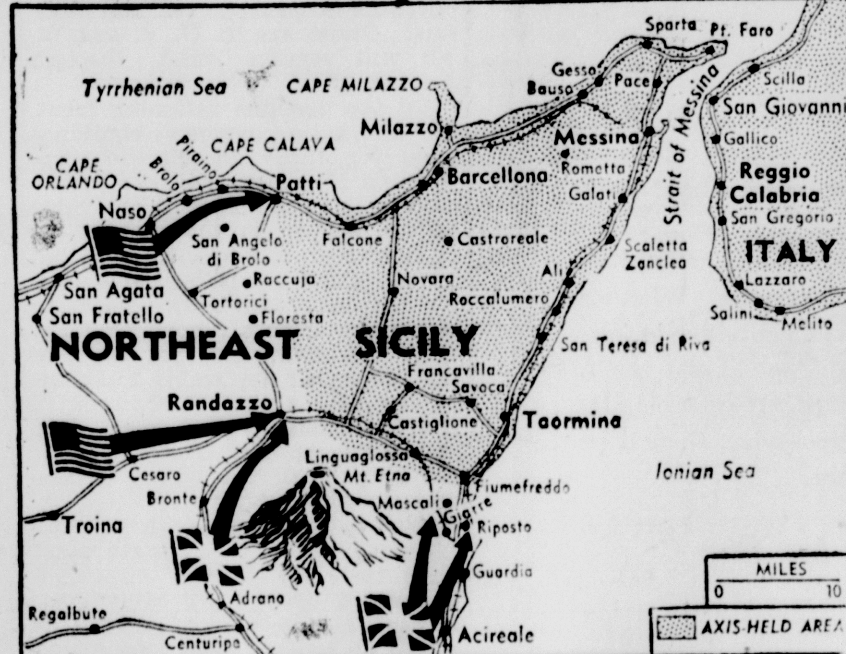

Lewis was not in Washington. There was no comment immediately as to whether a longer work week, with resultant increases in miners' incomes, would affect the status of current wage negotiations in which the miners demand a $2 a day increase and portal-to-portal pay.

The 48-hour week is embodied in a contract now before the WLE covering Illinois members of the United Mine Workers. This agreement provides also for settlement of the portal-to-portal controversy by allowing miners $1.25 a day for time spent in underground travel.

Lewis has offered this same contract to all other coal operators, as a basis for settlement of the wage dispute.

In another major coal mine development, Secretary Ickes yesterday set up a procedure to give companies operating mines under government control an opportunity to gain wider freedom in handling their financial affairs.

Producers Hold Emergency Meeting to Push Demands For Increase

SUPPLIES SHRINKING

Oklahoma City, Aug. 17—(AP)—Even after the war, it may be a long time before motorists can pull into a service station and say, "fill 'er up."

That's the opinion of the executive committee of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, which held an emergency meeting yesterday to push its demand for higher crude oil prices.

A resolution called upon congress to override the Office of Price Administration's refusal to raise the price ceiling.

Although United States oil supplies are shrinking rapidly, the resolution asserted, independent producers are unable to drill for new reserves because present prices make it a losing proposition.

Yet, it added, if new reserves are not discovered quickly, greater restrictions on the use of petroleum products are in prospect and gasoline rationing may have to be extended into the post-war period.

Frank Buttram, IPAA president, declared that oil prices now stand at 62 per cent of parity while the cost of labor is 182 per cent of parity.

Petroleum Administrator Ickes has recommended a 35-cent-a-barrel raise for crude oil but was overruled by OPA, which proposed a subsidy plan instead. Buttram said producers now figured an 80-cent boost was justified.

Philadelphia, Aug. 17—(AP)—The Regional War Manpower Commission has summoned area and state directors to a conference here today and tomorrow on WMC's new stabilization and draft deferment regulations.

Regional Director Frank L. McNamee said the purpose of the conference was "to familiarize the executives with all details of the program" and that "we have no other purpose in mind."

Quisling Issues Decree In Norway

Stockholm, Aug. 17—(AP)—Thousands of members of the Norwegian police were being inducted into the armed forces today under a decree signed by Premier Vidkun Quisling, apparently acting under direct orders from German occupational authorities haunted by fears of an Allied invasion.

Members of Quisling's personal bodyguard, and his storm troopers were also ordered militarized under the decree.

Quisling's decree forcibly mobilizing the Norwegian police into the army also placed Norway under virtual martial law. His action followed the execution of the Norwegian civil police chief, Gunnar Ellisen, on charges of disobedience to German authorities.

Choice Steaks, Prime Beef Non-Existent This Winter

BY WILLIAM FERRIS
Chicago, Aug. 17—(AP)—Choice steaks and prime cuts of beef—the kind that once obtained in high class restaurants and hotels—will be virtually non-existent this winter, livestock observers predicted today.

The type of beef which used to glamorize the banquet at conventions is definitely on its way out—it isn't profitable for farmers to produce it, and department of agriculture statistics indicate they won't make the attempt.

Fewer choice slices doesn't mean there will be less beef, however—there may be more of the type grading "medium" or "good" to make up the difference, livestock men asserted.

Conviction Grips London That Hour Is Near For Hitler's Fortress

SIGNIFICANT ACTIONS

BY JAMES F. KING

London, Aug. 17—(AP)—Great Britain began clearing all non-residents from her barricaded coastal areas today as a conviction gripped the nation that the hour is near for a powerful new blow at Adolf Hitler's European fortress.

Invasion talk was heard everywhere amid cries in both Britain and Russia for speedy opening of a second front.

From every angle new moves appeared directed at invasion, but whether in the Mediterranean, the Balkans or across the English channel was the Allied war chief's secret.

Significant, however, were these developments:

1. Heavy and repeated American air raids on Axis airfields in France—natural targets as a prelude to any new offensive.

2. Declaration of a state of siege in Norway by apparently jittery German occupation authorities.

3. Virtual isolation of Italy by severance of that country's telephone and telegraphic communications with Switzerland, giving rise to the belief that important developments might be in the offing.

(Dispatches from the Swiss border town of Chiasso quoted the Swiss Telegraphic Agency as saying that the situation throughout Italy "remained grave, with possibility of radical changes from one moment to the next.")

4. The British war cabinet was reported in constant session all day yesterday, keeping in direct touch with Prime Minister Churchill in Quebec.

5. The diversion of RAF heavy bomber attacks from German war (Turn to Page Nine)

New Currency For Sicily Explained

Washington, Aug. 17—(AP)—The Allied military currency introduced in the occupation of Sicily was said by authorities today to be intended merely to supplement the island's own currency, with which it will be equally acceptable "in every respect."

Explaining that the money-issued in some quarters as a blueprint for monetary aspects of future United Nations offensives—was issued under authority of international rather than American law, a joint treasury-war department announcement declared:

"In all cases complete records are being kept and a detailed accounting procedure has been set up in connection with the issuance and use of this currency. These complete records will also facilitate the adjustment of financial matters growing out of the military operations of the Allied forces in the occupied area."

Rickenbacker Says Reich Is Still Strong

BY WILLIAM FERRIS

New York, Aug. 17—(AP)—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, home from a 55,000-mile inspection tour of the war zones, said today that Italy "is being bombed out of the war" but that "Germany will not even crack before the fall of 1944 at the best" at the present rate of the war's progress.

"Germany still has a vast army, tons of materials, millions engaged in slave labor and she is relieving men from her own forces for additional labor and in addition the Germans are courageous and intelligent," he said at a press conference.

Sugar Stamp 14 Available For 5 Pounds

A new sugar ration stamp—No. 14 in Ration book 1—becomes valid today for the purchase of five pounds of sugar. Stamp No. 13, which also was good for five pounds, expired at midnight last night.

Householders should remember that Stamp No. 14 must last for two and a half months, through October 31. This is the same length of period of validity for which Stamp 13 was used.

In addition to Stamp 14, Stamps 15 and 16 in Ration book 1 remain good for five pounds each of canning sugar during the same period, or through October 31.

On the Blue Stamp front, R. S. and T. are now in use and will remain valid through September 20. These stamps are used in the purchase of canned and processed foods.

With series W stamps becoming valid yesterday, four series of Red Stamps may now be used for the purchase of meat, butter, and other fats. These are T. U. V. and W. All will remain valid through August 31.

On the gasoline rationing front, the No. 6 A coupon continues good for three gallons of gas through November 21. As yet no change has been made in the value of the coupon in the eastern rationing area, nor has the expected lifting of the ban on pleasure driving materialized. With respect to pleasure driving, however, the OPA has indicated that the ban may be ended September 1 provided the ban is strictly observed in the meantime so that east coast gas levels can be built up by September 1 to levels to support the increased consumption.

Also in connection with gasoline rationing C book motorists must have their third tire inspection completed by the end of August. A book motorists have until September 30 to have their tires checked.

Rotarians Hear Address On Post - War Period Problems

Speaking on the economic problems of the post-war period, Robert R. Young, assistant principal of Warren High School, delivered a very thought-provoking address to the Rotary Club members meeting yesterday noon at the Y. W. C. A. for their regular weekly session.

Mr. Young raised the question: "For what are we being liberated?" and proceeded to point out the problems and suggest possible solutions. He stated that America's problem will be three-fold: (1) the return to a peacetime economy—the transferring or retraining of 30 millions of workers and soldiers; (2) changes from the old to a new economy; (3) America's place in a changing world.

The larger part of Mr. Young's discourse dealt with the third phase of the problem, suggesting a ten-point solution as follows: (1) tariff reciprocity, (2) practice the exchange of surplus commodities, (3) increase the purchasing power of labor, (4) guarantee sea outlets to all nations, (5) forbid private manufacture of munitions of war, (6) regulate international bank, (7) discourage over-population—control immigration, (8) international regulation of all colonies, possessions and markets, (9) control of air routes and those heretofore unimportant islands, plains, etc., now the Gibralters and Singapore of the airways, and (10) a world "good neighbor" policy.

The program chairman was Ralph H. Wagner, who introduced Mr. Young.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

Heavy Jap Naval bombardment of our forces on a Pacific island destroyed our communications. Then Marine Corporal George J. Conlon went out to help lay a telephone trunk line between headquarters, the base radio and other strategic points. Caught in the open, he kept on working throughout five bombing attacks, and vital communications were restored. He won the Silver Star. # Care and Use of Electrical Appliances Is Emphasized In Home Canning Demonstration

The Warren Parent Teachers Association Monday afternoon sponsored a demonstration of home canning and the care and use of the home electrical appliances, at the home of Miss Margaret V. Smith, Home Adviser of the Home Service Center, Pennsylvania Electric Company, the program is one of the company's special wartime services to its customers.

Miss Osborne, conducting the part of the program entitled, "Food, Home Canning, and War," demonstrated three types of canning: the oven, hot-water bath, and pressure-cooker methods. An authority on canning and foods, she efficiently prepared several typical Victory Garden products—beans, tomatoes, summer squash, beets, and pears. Included in her talk were many new and helpful aids to making home canned foods more appetizing and several ways to avoid spoilage.

"Most spoilage of home canned foods can be traced to the following causes," Miss Osborne said, and included, "poor quality of food and delay in canning it, improperly sterilized containers: careless storage; imperfect seals; defective containers, or too short a processing time. Four of the seven basic foods necessary for health can be successfully canned at home."

She pointed out the fact that the 35,000,000 homemakers in this country can be a great force in the war effort, without leaving their homes.

For every jar of home-canned food releases that much commercially canned food to our boys in the service, and to our Allies.

The second half of the program was conducted by Miss Smith, an expert on the care and use of electrical appliances in the home. Entitled "Appliance Maintenance, Use, Care and Repair," the demonstration included a number of sure-fire aids in maintaining appliances for the duration of the emergency period.

"Waste in war is a crime," Miss Smith said, "You can save time, money, and energy, by not only using your appliances carefully, but by doing minor repair jobs yourself."

She outlined the four simple steps of replacing a blown-out fuse as follows:

- 1—stand on something dry.
- 2—pull down the lever at the side of the switch-box to shut off all current.
- 3—remove the fuse which is smudged—this indicates that it is blown-out.
- 4—replace the smudged fuse with a new one of the same size—15 amperes for branch circuits and 30 amperes for main circuits.

Among suggestions which Miss Smith gave as aids to prolonging lives of electrical appliances were: Use only approved electric cords; never use a fork or knife to remove toast from an electric toaster; this may cause a "short";

Citation For Former Kane High Athlete

Lt. Victor Gentilman, former coach at the Kane High School and brother of Miss Betty Gentilman, R. N., has been honored with a citation of the Order of the Purple Heart for wounds received in action in the South Pacific.

Miss Gentilman, local health nurse for the state, has received the information through her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Gentilman, of Kane, who were advised that General Collins had presented the decoration to her son.

The former popular Kane athlete, who later returned from Penn State to coach at his alma mater, entered service in 1941 and was wounded last year in an encounter with a Jap sniper. His parents were notified at that time concerning his wound and that he was recovering satisfactorily.

He writes that he is bringing home "some ammunition to go with the Jap gun" which he had previously sent to the family following action on Guadalcanal. It is believed he is now located on one of the islands known as the Russell group.

IMPOSSIBLE?..NOT IN AMERICA!

ON A RECENT FRIDAY EVENING. Over the phone came word from the Philadelphia Army Ordnance of a rush call from North Africa. A totally new kind of petroleum product was needed—a product never before made. Shipment must be made in eight days. How soon could 45,000 pounds be ready? In less than twenty-four hours our chemists, working from a rough description of the material, had an answer.

MONDAY MORNING. Via Army Jeep a sample arrived at the laboratory.

Chemists took it apart, analyzed it. Refinery experts worked out manufacturing procedure. The Army pitched in to help gather needed materials. By Wednesday, as promised, 45,000 pounds of a petroleum product never before manufactured was being produced on schedule.

4 A. M. FRIDAY, ONE WEEK LATER. Express cars had been coupled to fast passenger trains...even giant Army bombers were helping to speed delivery. But the job was done! 245,554 pounds of new material for a job that had never been done before—and for an invasion that wrote a new page in history.

A little more than was asked, a little sooner than was promised!... That is how all of us can help to shorten this war. It is the way the people of this and other organizations all over the country are getting the job done—the American way.

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—It could well be that the future of the Republican party, so far as 1944 is concerned, will be determined at Mackinac Island in the first week in September.

There on September 6 and 7, the Republican Postwar Advisory Council of 49 will meet to lay down the G.O.P. principles for postwar foreign policy and all matters which will effect the home front, come peace.

On that nub of vacation land which juts out between Lakes Huron and Michigan, 22 Republican governors, five Senators, 13 Congressmen and a handful of party leaders probably will write the Republican platform for 1944. The meeting is sponsored by the Republican National Committee and will be attended by virtually all potential G.O.P. candidates.

The Mackinac Island delegates already are roaring mad. President Roosevelt stole their thunder in his recent firestorm that when he laid down a blueprint for demobilization benefits to men in the armed services.

That put them on the spot twice over. In the first place, they have had in mind a foreign postwar policy that would come pretty close to coinciding with what the President already has suggested. They hoped, at Mackinac, to bury forever the idea that the Republicans have any truck with isolationism.

In addition, they wanted to be first in the political arena with a demobilization plan that would assure jobs for all men in the service, and give them interim pay to carry over until such jobs could be found. (Both parties seem determined to avoid the bonus plan that caused so much controversy after World War I).

NON-PARTISAN observers here see a great deal of significance in the resolution introduced in the Senate just before recess by no less than Senators Arthur H. Vandenberg (Michigan) and W. H. White, Jr. (Maine). It contained only a few more than 75 words, but incorporated the ideas of Senator Vandenberg, who was identified with the pre-Pearl Harbor "nationalists" and Senator White, who has been one of the stronger G.O.P. "internationalists" in the upper chamber.

Briefly, the resolution calls for victory first, and United States participation in an international peace plan "by whatever means necessary."

The significant point is that "left wing" and "right wing" of the Republican party have gotten together and it is understood here now that Senator Vandenberg will carry the resolution to the floor of the Mackinac conference.

If he is successful in getting it incorporated in the G.O.P. Advisory Council program, it is almost a cinch that it will be the post-war foreign policy plank in the Republican platform for 1944. It that happens, isolationism, so far as the major parties are concerned, will be a dead issue.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1933

"Billie" Rider, who is enjoying a tour to the West Coast writes most interestingly of her experience in the southwest. Her description of the Indians and Mexicans are highly entertaining and her letter in today's paper is an excellent one.

The Grand Valley picnic tomorrow is all set and now it is up to the weatherman. Ed Johnson, H. H. Bassett and H. N. Reist, the sports committee, have lined up some good events and the picnic promises to be a great success. Rev. Pinkney Wroth will give the address of the day.

Gardens this year are not reflecting much credit on those who will till the soil by E. M. Lowe has a garden at his home on Madison street that is his pride and joy. It is growing in a splendid manner and the vegetables are bearing prolifically.

Archie Anderson who resides on the Warren-Sugar Grove road was in the Times office this morning with a well justified kick. He says motorists have been invading his orchard and fields and have been taking fruit and vegetables in a most ruthless manner.

Fire on the Charles Swain farm south of Sheffield did $20,000 damage this morning when flames swept three buildings burning them entirely with all of their contents.

At a meeting held last evening in the Times Mirror office steps were taken to have a football team this fall. Frank Willard, Herb Munphy and Ed Jefferson were appointed to get the ball rolling. There are plenty of good players in the vicinity and a good team promises to be forthcoming.

The U. S. Agricultural Department is placing Jay Beetle traps in and about Warren. The pesky jay has made his appearance here and the quarantine has been moved to a spot west of Warren.

The Struthers-Wells Company has been awarded the contract for a 1500 barrel distillation plant, at the Sloan and Oak Refinery at Bradford. Men from the local plant are now on the job.

Eighteen members of the County Medical Society attended the meeting of the Cancer Commission held at Oil City last Saturday. This was one of the largest meetings of the group held in the state thus far.

The Columbus picnic was a humdinger from all reports. There was a big crowd and the various events of the day were run off without a hitch. Curry was well represented and there was a handful from Warren in attendance.

Approximately 2,500,000 automobiles were taken out of service since May 1, 1942.

You and your tires will live longer if you remember to slow down on curves.

Stamp News

SWITZERLAND has marked the 652nd anniversary of the founding of its democracy with two semi-postals, and the 30th anniversary of a trans-Alpine air flight with an airmail stamp. All three stamps recently reached this country.

The semi-postals commemorate the meeting of three delegates of the forest cantons of Uri, Schwyz and Unterwalden on Aug. 1, 1291 when their oath formed the oldest democracy in the world and united them in a league to oppose the tyranny of the Hapsburgs. A 10-plus-10 centime value depicts a general of the village of Intragna, with its famous frescoed parish church. The second, illustrated here, is a 20-plus-10 centime value in brick red which portrays the Bundeshaus or Parliament Building in Berne.

The design of the 20-plus-10 semi-postal is also used for the airmail issue except that the value panel at the lower left is inscribed "1 Fr." in black and the inscription "13.VII.1943-Pro Aero" is overprinted in black above the parliament building.

The stamp commemorates the flight of Oskar Bider on July 13, 1913 from Berne over the Jungfrau, most famous of Bernese Oberland peaks, to Milan, Italy, and was especially intended for special flights from Berne and Zurich July 13.

For the first time since 1899, the United States will issue special stamps for use in countries invaded by the armed forces, according to an announcement from the Treasury Department. Comparable currency already is in circulation in Sicily, the Department has announced.

No details of the stamp issues are known at this writing, but in its announcement of the currency issues, the department said the money was designed "so that it might be adapted to the needs of troops in further assaults upon Hitler's European fortress merely by overprinting the proper currency denominations."

Russia has issued two new stamps, according to information reaching J. & H. Stolow, New York wholesalers. One, a 10-ruble value, honors Alexander Nevski, a 13th century hero who became prince of Novgorod in 1239 and routed an invasion of Swedes, Danes and Livonians in 1240. In 1710, Peter the Great founded a monastery in his honor and in 1722 created the Order of Alexander Nevski. A one-ruble stamp portrays a patriotic war medal.

Here are the routes of three Allied air armadas which struck at both poles of the Axis simultaneously. Some 500 American heavy bombers swept up from North Africa to blast Rome's rail yards through which the Germans fleeing Sicily must pass. Britain-based squadrons totaling probably 1000 planes left Turin and Milan airports and arms plants blazing in northern industrial Italy, and the RAF gave Berlin its 68th blasting.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—I never realized how completely Katina Paxinou dominates "For Whom the Bell Tolls" until I met Katina Paxinou in person.

I had expected, after seeing this Oscar-winning characterization, to meet a towering Amazon, a giantess, a strong figure of a woman whose shadow would darken the earth. That shows what an actress can do in creating and sustaining an illusion—for Katina, who wore flat espadrilles as Pilar, is no more than average height in person, even wearing heels.

Madame Paxinou, the Greek who played the screen's outstanding Spanish character, is still a towering personality, intense, dynamic, with the vitality you'd expect after seeing her Pilar. Her dark eyes fast as she talks, and she talks with heat and fire. Perhaps she can relax at times, but when she talked of Greece and the Fascists who enslaved it, she was like a burning torch.

She talked much of that. "Politics," she said, her hands leaping in incessant gestures. "Politics! My husband asked me not to talk of that, but I cannot help it. It is in me; you will forgive? Eh?"

If I were a Nazi or a Fascist in Greece today, I should not sleep again. I should not sleep for dread of the day when all the Katinas of a ravaged Greece take their vengeance. No family in Greece, she said, has escaped the Nazi horror.

She spoke of horror piled upon horror. "I should not say these things, because they will not be believed. My husband and I, in other days we played sometimes in the theaters of Germany, and some of those people were our friends. Friends! Now the Germans are like creatures from another planet—no longer human beings. Ask the Greeks about the poor, misguided German people! Ask the Greeks!"

In pre-war Greece Katina Paxinou and her husband, Alexis Minotis, were the Lum and Fontanne of the Royal Greek theater, acclaimed not only at home but over the continent and in London. In late 1939, she rejected a Nazi offer for a play in Germany, went to England instead, and there performed through 11 months of the blitz. En route to America to aid the Greek war relief drive, she was on a ship that was torpedoed, and lost all her possessions not already destroyed in the bombing of her London hotel. Rescued by a British destroyer, she returned to England and more blitz, finally came to America by Clipper.

IN Greece, meanwhile, her husband band three times had escaped from the Nazis, refusing to "collaborate." Her daughter, Iliana, her mother, two brothers and four sisters are still in Greece, their fate unknown. Minotis, finally reaching this country, is writing about Greece. He has a story "Song of the Thieves" which is being considered for filming.

"We hope it will be a picture," said Katina Paxinou. "There have been films of Norway, Holland, France, other conquered countries, but so far none about Greece, which really fought tooth and nail against the invaders."

Janet Beardsley Is Presented in Fine Recital For Piano

Last evening Janet Beardsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Beardsley, gave a piano recital for a number of invited guests at the Robertsons' 418 Third avenue.

The program was given with exceptional poise on the part of Miss Beardsley, whose playing is musical and whose work shows intelligence and serious feeling for music. Her playing has a breadth of style which is admirable and it is further distinguished by a clear, limpid tone and a sense for delicate tone color.

Miss Beardsley, presented in this recital by her teacher, Miss Jean Robertson, was this past year president of the Junior Philomel. She is a graduate of Warren High School, Class of 1943, and leaves next month for Smith College, Northampton, Mass., where she is enrolled as a freshman and where she will continue her music studies.

Her program included the following numbers:

- I. Prelude in B flat major, Bach; Allegretto, Beethoven; Mazurka in F sharp, Chopin.
- II. Le Matin, Chaminade, with Miss Robertson at the second piano.
- III. Prelude in C sharp minor, Rachmaninoff; Le Fille aux Cheveux de Lin and Clair de Lune, Debussy; On to the Sea, Katherine Lucke.
- IV. Andante from G Minor Concerto, Mendelssohn, with orchestral parts at the second piano by Miss Robertson.

Here's the clincher for me

THIS is my kid.

He's a pretty good kid.

But a war starts you thinking.

Nobody knows for sure just what kind of a world my kid will have to grow up in. But whatever kind of a world it is, a little money behind him will help.

That's why I'm salting money away for him now.

I'm not taking any chances with his future. I'm guaranteeing it in the best way I know how.

Every pay day, nearly a quarter of what I make goes into War Bonds. Not just when I can spare it. But every single pay day—week in, week out.

It's taken right out of my pay, on the Payroll Savings Plan. That way, I hardly miss it. But it mounts up fast.

And every one of those War Bonds will pay back four dollars for three.

Pay it back when my kid may need it most.

Sure, I'd be buying bonds anyway. I know the Government needs money to win the war. And, it's the least sacrifice a guy can make for the country that's been good to him.

But the clincher with me is my kid.

CHANCES ARE, you're already in the Payroll Savings Plan—buying War Bonds—doing your bit. But don't stop there. Raise your sights! Do your best!

How millions of Americans have done their bit—and how they can do better:

Of the 34 million Americans on plant pay rolls, nearly 30 million of them have joined the Payroll Savings Plan. (If you aren't in yet—sign up to-morrow!)

Those Americans who have joined the Plan are investing, on the average, 10% of their earnings in War Bonds. (If you haven't reached 10% yet—keep trying!)

But . . . . .

America's income this year will be the highest in history—about 125 BILLION dollars! In spite of all taxes and price rises, the average worker will have more money than last year—more than ever before!

That is why Uncle Sam has a right to ask us, individually, to invest more money in War Bonds, through the Payroll Savings Plan. He asks us to invest not 10% or 15% or 20%, but all we can!

Forge Taking On Two Teams This Week In Preparation For The Game With Corry Sunday

Forge and Corry will tangle in the first game of the series for the district championship at Russell Field Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

Forge are defending champions as they have been district champions for the past four years. Incidentally it was the Corry team that was beaten out by the Steelers last year for the honor.

Corry is out for revenge and expect Cassett to pitch them to victory. Cassett has beaten Forge in the past but it was more by his hitting than by his twirling, his bat accounting for two victories over the locals. He will probably be opposed by Freddie Gagliardi who turned in one of his best performances last Sunday, and if he is in the same form Corry should be one game behind in the battle for the championship.

Cassett has turned out to be a nemesis this year for the Forgers. He defeated them three times and held them to a 3-3 tie. Forge won two games by scores of 4-3 and 18-0 but at neither time was Cassett on the mound for Corry.

Forge has been playing some great baseball of late, due to their hitting power mainly, and must be rated a very slight favorite over the Erie county team. Corry has lost to Meadville and to Struthers-Wells, and Forge has defeated both teams, and in doing so offsets Corry's 3-2 games win over Forge. On this rating, plus the 18-0 Forge victory in their last engagement seems to give Forge that 3-2 edge.

Corry will meet Struthers-Wells Wednesday evening in preparation for Sunday's opener of the series, while Forge takes on Kane Hologates at Russell Field Thursday evening and Jamestown at the State Hospital Friday.

Thus, both teams should be in tip-top shape and a good crowd should be on hand. Excepting for the 18-0 score all games between Forge and Corry have been close and exciting, and next Sunday fans may be assured there will be no decision until the last man is out.

Methodists Are Winners In First Game

The first game in the YMCA Church Softball league championship series went to the First Methodist ten. The game, played on Leaky Field, was exciting and close to watch. At first it was thought that the affair would have to be postponed due to the slight rain that fell but after some debate it was agreed on both sides to see it through.

Featherweight Title Is Won By Terranova

New Orleans, Aug. 17.—(P)—Fighting Phil Terranova, new N. B. A. featherweight champion of the world, plans to defend his title against all comers.

He made this plain last night after knocking out defending Champion Jackie Callura of Ontario, Canada, in the eighth round of a scheduled 15-round bout, before 8,500.

Callura forced the fighting in the early rounds and had a slight edge, but Terranova appeared to grow stronger as the fight progressed, while his opponent tired fast after the fifth.

A series of hard rights and lefts to the body and head softened Callura in the seventh and sent him to the canvas for a count of nine early in the eighth. Although the champion jumped to his feet, he was no match for the hard punching challenger from the Bronx and went down for good from a crushing right uppercut to the jaw in the first minute of the round. Callura weighed 124½ and Terranova 124. The title came to Terranova after less than two years of professional boxing.

Louis Is Given Two Weeks for Training

Fort George G. Meade, Md., Aug. 17.—(P)—Sgt. Joe Louis, who was to have started a global boxing tour under the management of Uncle Sam's War Department tomorrow, has been given a two-week period to get ready for the grind which now will get under way Aug. 30.

Maj. Lester D. Fried, Meade special service officer, announced last night that Louis would remain at the post here for the training and that the heavyweight champion would appear tonight at the post's athletic show.

Louis will spend 100 days visiting army posts in continental U. S. before embarking for the various war fronts.

Last Night's Bouts

New Orleans—Phil Terranova, 124½, New York, knocked out Jackie Callura, 124½, Hamilton, Ont., (8) (title).

Newark—Buster Tyler, 141, West Palm Beach, Fla., outpointed Pete Galliano, 140 Baltimore (8).

Baltimore—George Kochan, 164½, U. S. Coast Guard and Akron, Ohio, outpointed Howard Bennett, 164½, Baltimore (13) (CQ).

THE LONG NIGHT By Eleanor Atterbury

Chapter 4

FASCINATED, the two girls stood there watching as a fourth plane appeared. It darted toward the slowly circling enemy ships, dove like a swooping hawk. "One of our fighter planes," Bette cried. "Three against one." Then, as if they watched a Hollywood version of a dog-fight on a movie screen, they saw the puffs of smoke, saw the three enemy planes bank, turn, twisting in vain effort to get on the Yankee flyer's tail. Then the brilliant moment when the first Jap plane burst into flame, plunged headlong in endless spiral that led to the sea. Gripped by the life-and-death struggle they had just witnessed, Bette shook herself finally like a sleep-walker. Incredible, but there it was. War! And the front line trenches right over their heads!

"The Nips are on the job all ready!"—a familiar, deep voice broke into her thoughts.

Bette discovered Captain Scott MacQuaid at her elbow.

"We'll hope he brings down the other two," he added, "before they have time to run home with news of this new transport."

Bette's eyes returned to the sky battle. The two Jap planes were streaking westward, the American plane in pursuit. A moment later, they disappeared into the dim, rainy murk.

"To be continued in our next," Scott grinned, pulled open the heavy storm door to the hospital.

Bette glanced back in time to see the smile Sue turned up to him. No wonder men adored Sue Stuart. Always serene, always in complete control, always lovely. Right now even in the severe plainness of the uniform overcoat every nurse wore, Sue was beautiful. And gracious and charming as if she were ushering Scott into her own drawing room instead of a barren, front-line hospital. Scott was probably in love with her already whether he knew it yet or not. And he'd never anywhere have found a lovelier sweetheart. Bette thought loyally.

FOR the next forty-eight hours, Bette worked almost steadily as did every member of the tiny hospital's staff. The prefabricated building was still in the process of being assembled really. Men from the Construction Battalion were still hammering, fitting doors, putting on a last coat of white paint. At the end of the second weary day, Bette had unpacked sheets and pillow cases and blankets, drugs, dressing, until her whole body throbbled with fatigue. When the last government stamped packing case was empty, she put on her coat and went out.

She walked aimlessly at first, grateful for this chance to draw deep draughts of the cold, clear air. She crossed the open square aware again of some engineer's shrewdness in planning the little settlement so that all buildings pressed back close to the cliffs leaving the obviously easy bomb targets free for any enemy marksmen.

And then she stopped short as she saw the transport backing slowly out of the little harbor. While it stood there at anchor, symbol of the power and protection of Uncle Sam, Bette had unconsciously postponed thinking about their position here at an outpost of the world. But now, as the boat drew slowly away, she felt an unreasonable terror.

"Smatter? Wish you'd changed your mind?" Scott MacQuaid caught up with her, grinning.

He followed her glance out across the waters to where the ship was becoming only a blur on the dim-dark horizon. "It does seem that way. Hope she gets home safely."

Bette nodded. "She will."

"I'M NOT so sure." A scowl drew three deep lines between his dark brows. "Can't understand why we haven't heard more from the Nips since we landed. Unless they're saving up, lying in wait for that transport. Maybe they figure to take us on later. Anyway I don't like the smell of it."

And again Bette had that strange feeling that the remoteness, the vast silences of this strange new land were ominous with future dangers. She shuddered a little.

"Cold? Better keep walking. You freeze fast in this country."

"And this is April. Wonder what it's like in November."

"It's really frigid," she smiled, fell into step beside her. "But somehow you learn to take it—and like it."

"You were here last winter?"

"Sure. I'm an old-timer. How did you happen to volunteer yourself into this kind of a job?"

Bette glanced up with surprise. "But why not? We'll be needed."

"You'll be needed all right," he agreed grimly. "It won't be long now."

Bette's smile twisted. "You wouldn't be trying to scare a tenderfoot would you, mister?"

"Sure. If the tenderfoot still cherishes the idea that this jaunt is just a new kind of summer excursion."

"And who does?" Bette's temper stirred.

"You do, apparently," grimly. "Did it ever occur to you that it isn't safe to show that bright red head of yours at this time of day? Dawn and twilight are the Nips' favorite hours for dropping their calling cards."

"I still can't see why it should be any concern of yours," Bette retorted, stung again to fury that he should again be criticizing her.

HE SHRUGGED. "Just a natural interest in our government's investment in you. Then, with a spark of laughter in the dark blue eyes, "I don't like to have to worry about being on hand to rescue you."

"Please, don't be concerned a moment longer. I'm perfectly capable of taking care of myself."

The teasing twinkle disappeared. "You are, at that," he agreed dryly, and then swinging wide the hospital door, bowed slightly. "No offense intended, lieutenant."

Before she could speak, the air-raid siren rose from a low whine to a banshee howl.

Scott grinned down at her wryly. "See? What did I tell you?"

"The Japs!" Bette murmured held tight by her own amazement and sudden fear.

"Well, I don't think it would be the men from Mars," he laughed shortly. "See you later," and ran from the building.

Bette followed him to the door, watched him race across the open square to the flying field. Her heart crowded into her throat as realization caught hold of her mind. He disappeared from her sight now.

Kirkwood Peaved At Hagen Slight

Philadelphia, Aug. 17.—(P)—Joe Kirkwood, Huntingdon Valley Golf pro, would like to show Walter Hagen some of his vaudeville trick shots for $2,000.

He offered the wager after resigning yesterday from the Professional Golfers Association because, he said, he was left out of the lineup of Hagen's challenger team in the Ryder cup matches at Detroit last week-end.

The nationally known trick shot artist said that in Hagen's reported "boast" of defeating him in a practice round "he forgot to mention that I had driven from just west of Pittsburgh that day and was in no shape to play golf."

"However if (Hagen) still thinks he can play golf," Kirkwood said in a letter to PGA president Ed Dudley, "I have $2,000 and am willing to wager and will play with him any time, cash on the line, all proceeds along with half the loser's bet going to the Red Cross or any other charity."

STANFORD GIVING UP FOOTBALL THIS FALL

Palo Alto, Calif., Aug. 17.—(P)—Stanford will not field a football team this year—or probably for the duration of the war, for that matter—because there just aren't enough interested, able-bodied non-army men on the campus to make up a squad.

An official announcement last night said that "Stanford University cannot play its conference football schedule because of a lack of manpower on the campus. All games are cancelled."

Stanford's decision threw the southern half of the Pacific coast conference into a jumble and meant the suspension of the bitter 50-year-old pigskin feud with the University of California—the "big game" in these parts.

Personal Paragraphs

Mrs. Sarah Bowell is home after a visit with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jennie Bowell, in Corry.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair E. Gibson have returned to Floral Park, Long Island, after enjoying a week's visit at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Edith Gibson, at Pittsfield. Mrs. Gibson accompanied them as far as Lock Haven, where she is visiting a daughter, Mrs. C. Dale Long, and family.

Miss Hulda Angermann, office secretary at the First Presbyterian church, left last evening to vacation over Labor Day with her family in Philadelphia and Egg Harbor City, N. J.

Mrs. John T. Brew, of Larchmont, N. Y., and formerly of Erie, arrived this morning from New York for a few days' visit with her sisters, Mrs. J. J. Jordan and Miss Frances Conney, Poplar St. She will go on from there to Erie for a more extended visit with her son and old friends.

It will please many friends to learn that E. Valone, of Clarendon, is recovering very satisfactorily following a recent operation in Hamot Hospital in Erie.

Rickenbacker Says Reich Is Still Strong
He said "anything can happen in Italy—any day. I think it will be a complete blowup."

Rickenbacker expressed belief that except for air power the Allies would be unable to capture Italy, and predicted an immediate crumbling within Italy as a result of bombings.

The famous flier, who represented Secretary of War Stimson on his battlefield tour but who said he spoke as a private citizen, predicted that "something is coming this winter that will shock the world—maybe sooner."

He declined to elaborate.

President Is Believed To Be in Quebec
He might already be in Canada, though he said this could not be confirmed.

In previous meetings of the two United Nations leaders, starting with the one two years ago at which they formulated the Atlantic charter, secrecy has been the rule. There were no advance announcements and strict censorship control prevailed.

But this time the entire pattern was changed. It was pretty much of a certainty that Churchill again was coming across the Atlantic. His arrival in Quebec was announced. The press was allowed to state that he and Mr. Roosevelt had held a preliminary conference at the president's home at Hyde Park, N. Y., and that American chiefs of staff were here to confer with British staff chiefs.

The policy apparently has been one of encouraging all sorts of speculation on what was going on in this ancient provincial capital and on what was likely to occur.

Marienville Boy Is Killed In Action

Through Warren friends it is learned that Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sharrow, of Marienville, have been advised by the War Department that their son, Pfc. Robert Sharrow, was killed in action August 11 in the North African theatre of war. No details have been learned.

Young Sharrow enlisted shortly after his graduation from Marienville High School in 1940 and had been overseas for the past year. He has two brothers also in the armed forces. Pfc. Benjamin is in Florence, S. C., and Pfc. Kenneth is at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Besides his parents and these two brothers, he leaves one sister, Rosalie, and the following brothers at home: Glenn, Richard, Charles, Harold, William and Ralph.

A naval communique announced that strong Allied naval forces were blockading the foot of the Italian peninsula from the Gulf of Policastro, 150 miles up the west coast and half way to Naples, to Cape Rizzuto on the heel of the boot.

Industries to an all-out attempt to knock Italy out of the war by destroying her industrial facilities.

Armed guards and barricades blocked all approaches to certain towns on the British south coast, which was under the biggest ban since the outbreak of the war. But the feeling of nervous expectancy this time was far different than in 1940 after Dunkerque, when German invasion was expected momentarily.

Four German reconnaissance planes appeared over the south coast early last night, possibly attracted by signs of unusual military activities. One of these was shot down.

In the war office in Whitehall there was a rush of activity as the war cabinet met and called in technical heads of all the services.

More than 6,000 Nazis have been killed in the furious fighting of the last two days, they declared. In addition the fall of Karachov cost the Nazis 48 tanks, 12 planes, 100 field pieces and self-propelled guns, 225 machineguns, 99 mortars, 223 trucks, and 6,500 rifles and large quantities of ammunition and supplies which were seized in the captured city, the bulletin announced.

The Germans were counterattacking desperately in the Khar-kov area, the Russians said. The thrusts were repulsed and reported 1,600 Nazis killed and 32 tanks destroyed.

POLICE NEWS

Warren police about three o'clock this morning apprehended, at the request of the State Police at Erie, two couples alleged to have figured in a brawl at Waterford earlier in the night. They were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson, Arlene Winger and Donald Hoffman, all of this city. Shortly before noon two officers from the Erie barracks of the State Police, Sgt. W. Showers and Pvt. C. M. Mathis, arrived to return the offenders to Erie county. They stated that the men are to be charged with aggravated assault and battery and the women will be charged with disorderly conduct.

The police department is investigating depredations discovered Monday morning at the South Side Playgrounds. Mrs. Ruelena Yeager reported yesterday that during the weekend miscreants, using a horse shoe pitching stake, had loosened boards on the roof of the equipment shed and practically taken everything of value including two badminton rackets, net and "bird", as well as the basketball, three tennis paddles and other articles. The structure was badly damaged and will have to be repaired.

Investigation was made of complaints received from Victory Garden owners on the south side who reported that gardens are being raided by thieves and tramped down.

A number of boys had arranged a rope along the river in Pennsylvania avenue west, with which they were swinging far over the high bank, and appeared to be in danger of injury. Police who were called out down the swing and warned the boys to find some other less dangerous form of pastime.

A stolen bicycle which was recovered in Glade is the object of an inquiry today, and it is expected the situation will be cleared up when the accused lad and owner appear later in the afternoon. One story is that the bike had been sold for a stipulated amount.

Warren police are credited with recovering an automobile reported stolen from Joseph Yanz, 3220 Butler street, Pittsburgh, July 17. According to the report the automobile had been parked in Pennsylvania avenue west in front of the Manufacturers' Light and Heat Co. building for two weeks, when Patrolman Wally Outrid had his suspicions aroused and it was towed to the municipal building. The police department at Pittsburgh was called and it is expected that the car will be claimed by the owner.

Another complaint was received about a barking dog in the east side. Police are inclined to believe the incident is a result of a little friction in the neighborhood, since they were advised by some of the neighbors that the canine is unusually friendly and quiet.

Between 9 and 10 o'clock last evening the police were called to the West Side playgrounds where it was reported boys, who evidently do not appreciate what has been provided for their recreation, had tipped over the slide and were in the act of trying to bend down the flag pole. When the officers arrived all was calm and serene and the culprits had disappeared. They hope to apprehend them and bring them into the station for well-deserved lectures.

A report was received early this morning of a prowler in the vicinity of Prospect street but the investigating officers were unable to find any suspicious characters.

British fighter planes simultaneously attacked Nazi airbases and communications in France and the lowlands, and destroyed one enemy bomber over its base.

Thousands in the streets cheered as the big planes roared over, flashing its cabin lights in the "V" for victory signal—three dots and a dash—all the way across the city.

Minor enemy aerial activity, meanwhile, was reported over the Thames estuary and a few bombs were scattered along the coast, only one fatality and slight damage was reported, however.

Just before midnight an air raid alarm sounded in London and the sound of gunfire was heard from outlying districts of the London area, however, the all-clear sounded soon afterward. It was London's first night alert since July 29.

"Normal Diet" Is Outlined For Physicians

In a talk before the Warren County Medical Society on Monday afternoon at the YWCA activities building, Miss Arlene Schure, county home economics supervisor, outlined the present conception of what constitutes "normal diet for the average adult."

She pointed out that it is the belief of nutrition experts that improper or inadequate diet is responsible for many cases of absenteeism in industry and that the population as a whole does not make the best use of the food available.

She said the home economics instruction course in nutrition is an endeavor by the government to teach various groups how to arrange the daily menu so as to give the average individual the kind of food best suited to furnish energy, build and repair tissue and regulate the body processes. Continuing, she explained that the American dietary is of sufficient variety to provide all the materials necessary. She described the foods that are considered basic under seven heads and if these are used in proper quantities and variety they will give the body all the minerals and vitamins it needs and prevent some of the diseases which occur when these elements are wanting. With dairy products, fruits, cereals, fats, green and leafy vegetables arranged in proper proportions and stated intervals, the needs of the average individual can be met. Substitutes for meat may be found in the soy bean and margarine is as good a fat as butter, but it is important to arrange the foods in such a way as to assure the vitamins important in maintaining vital functions.

Dinner for 20 members followed the meeting, with Doctors J. F. Crane, L. E. Chapman, Paul Fago, A. A. Grant and C. J. Frantz as sponsors.

War-time restrictions on gasoline have rolled back the death toll of motor vehicle accidents back to what it was two decades ago.

Liberty Ship Named After Publisher

The Liberty ship "Patrick C. Boyle", named in honor of the memory of the founder of the Oil City Derrick as The Organ of Oil and of the Oil and Gas Journal, will slide down the ways at the Bethlehem-Fairfield shipyard at Baltimore, Md., on Saturday, September 18.

Date of the ship's launching was received in a letter to Congressman Leon H. Gavin from Admiral E. S. Land, of the United States maritime commission, in which the commission chairman expressed his appreciation of the congressman's interest and stated that his suggestion of the name of a sponsor for the ship would be transmitted to the general manager of the shipyard.

Mr. Boyle established the Derrick as "The Organ of Oil" in 1885 and the Oil and Gas Journal, the world's leading oil publication, in 1910. He was a charter member of the Associated Press.

Erie will see the great army show on Saturday, Sept. 11. Arrangements are being made to hold the spectacle in the Stadium at 26th and State streets.
